

THE DAVID SHELDICK WILDLIFE TRUST

Umani Springs is a self-catering property nestled in the Kibwezi Forest overlooking waterholes fed by the Chyulu Hills National Park. All revenue generated from this facility off-sets the concession fees payable to the Kenya Forest Service and the costs associated with the sustainable protection and preservation of this uniquely beautiful yet essentially fragile ecosystem.

By staying at Umani Springs you are directly contributing to the protection of this area.

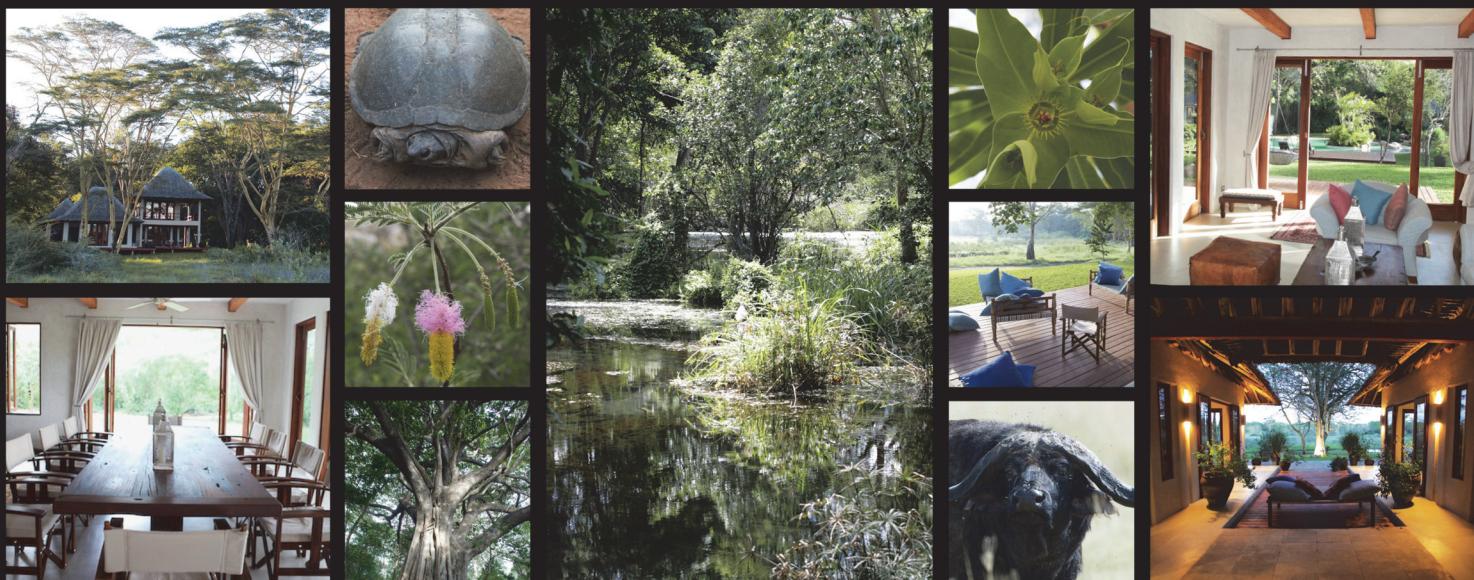

This beautiful and stylish property comprises of:

- * A mess building with dining and sitting areas.
- * Five bedrooms; 1 single unit and two double units, with the capacity to sleep ten people.
- * Inside bathrooms and outside showers for each unit.
- * A fully equipped spacious kitchen with stores.
- * The best swimming pool imaginable.

The property comes complete with:

- * Fully equipped kitchen with gas cooker, fridge and freezer, crockery and cutlery.
- * All bed linen and towels along with mosquito nets.
- * Beautifully appointed furnishing.
- * Solar power throughout the camp.
- * Staff members and a cook who look after the camp and guests.

As a self-catering property guests are required to bring all their own food, drink and vehicles, so as to enjoy this magical place as if it were your own home in the bush.
