De-Snaring Report for August, 2013

Monthly Summary

DUMA TEAM DESNARING REPORT FOR AUGUST 2013

Areas patrolled

During the month of August the team managed to patrol Metava, Utu, Kikunduku, Kensili Kisula Mkururo and Kaunguni area.

Metava

This is an area near the park boundary which historically known for poaching and wood carving. Duma team maintained a constant surveillance and indirect espionage measures which successfully enabled us to apprehend a poacher with bush meat in this area at night.

Mkururo

This is the northern area of Chyulu hills national park and is known for a variety of wildlife species like Rhinos and Elephants. We extended our patrols in this area and managed to arrest two elephant poachers with bows and poisoned arrows who disguised as charcoal burners. We handed them over to the KWS investigation department for a screwed interrogation and they ended up giving two elephant tusk which they had hidden in their homes. They were then booked at Voi police station to be arraigned in court for hefty legal measures. The team also through spies realized that woodcarving had caved in this area. This made the team to institute a thorough search where with fortune managed to arrest six woodcarvers with their carvings. We booked them in at Kibwezi police station.

Kikunduku

Kikunduku is an area at the edges of Chyulu hills and has a history of snaring. We patrolled this area and managed to lift snares which targeted at both big game and small games. We also found remains of poached giraffe and a snared warthog carcass a clear indicative of poaching.

Kensili/Kisula

These are two areas which are close to one another in Chyulu national park near Kibwezi forest. The team patrolled these areas and found that logging was at its height. The team managed to arrest several loggers who were later booked in at Kibwezi police station.

Utu

Utu is in the southern end of Chyulu national park, where charcoal burning is always an endless story. Duma combed this area and managed to destroy many both unfinished and ready charcoal kilns. The team arrested twenty charcoal burners who were booked at Mtiito Andei police station to face the law.
